

No. 7

The Bendy Monsters

& Blammo!

"THE SPEC ACT WITH A DIFFERENCE"

WEDNESDAY 28th OCTOBER
THE HALLAMSHIRE,
SHEFFIELD.

Ok, so which one of you lot told Chas & Dave about us and their wives? On another recent trip down to London, The Bendy Monsters met up with some rather unsavoury characters in a pub just off the Fulham Road. After a brief scurmish and a 'set to' in a nearby pie & mash shop, your favourite foursome were left for dead in Smithfield Market, only to bounce back with a gig at The Hallamshire with Blammo! on the 28th. This is supposed to be a party, so why not run downstairs and order a jumbo bag of Rileys Cheese and Onion crisps right now! Tonight sees the debut performance of Dr. James McNerney, an ears, nose & throat specialist at nearby St. Kanga-on-the-Briney Hospital. As well as his indisputable medical talents, Dr. James excels in other fields and has a fine collection of plasticine Jungle Book characters which light up when you fart! Due to unforeseen circumstances Madame Wainwright will be a notable absentee, due to an explosion of papaya chunks at Jacksons Supermarket of Walkley, purveyor of the finest crap!

THE A-Z OF DEAD CELEBS (PART THREE)

E

Jimmy Edwards (7/7/88)

Larger than life moustachioned homosexual popular in later life as a village copper.

Dick Emery (1984)

Veteran entertainer noted for catchphrases such as 'ooh, you are awful!' and 'I like dressing up in womens clothes'.

Also: Denholm Elliot (6/10/92) Seedy actor; Arthur Ellis It's a knockout marathon man;
Fred Emney Burly comic actor; Dame Edith Evans (14/10/76) Senile old crow;
Geraint Evans (19/9/92) Opera Singer.

F

Gracie Fields (27/9/79)

Rochdales favourite, grandmother of Mike Harding and the toast of Dobbins Guiltless Stout. A real old pro.

Also: Billy Fury Faded fifties idol; Marty Feldman (1983) Comedian with big eyes;
Henry Fonda (12/8/82) Actor; Sheila Florance 'Lizzie' in Prisoner Cell Block H.

G

Peter Glaze

Tubby childrens entertainer and star of 'Crackerjack'. Last seen in poor Nat West advert dressed as a painter.

Dustin Gee

Effeminate rising star of early 80s, partner of Les Dennis. Died during over enthusiastic Larry Grayson impression, eventually going into spasm.

Alex Graham (1992)

Creator of Fred Bassett, a tiresome middle class animal but only a drawing.

Goldie (October 1992)

Blue Peter Favourite. Spent her last days on Simon Grooms parents farm in Dethick, Derbyshire. Died whilst wearing early 80's orange Derby County away kit!

Also: Noele Gordon ATVs wicked witch of the Midlands; Cary Grant (30/11/86) Arsehole;
Joe Gladwin Last of the Summer Wines 'Wally Batty'; Marvin Gaye (1/4/84) Victim of worlds sickest 'April Fool'. Shot by his father on 1 April.

NOT REAL CORNER

No.2: Tony the Tiger

Enchanted many a young child and boosted Kelloggs profits with his amusing catchphrase 'They're Grrreat!'. Should have been 'I'm nnnnnnnnot real!'

For a heartwarming winter dish to warm the cockles of your larynx and to add strength to your trachea, why not try 'glue sniffing'?

Once tried, you'll find a whole host of new opportunities you'll want to sample. Top glue experts particularly recommend a term they call 'not being able to breathe'.

For those of you with reservations about the hobby, a recommended and inexpensive 'green' alternative can be found at your local supermarket.

For only £1.50 why not invest in a small packet of chick peas and a yardbrush?

Yo Sega dudes! It's xmas party time! Here's news of the latest releases for Christmas. Why not pit your wits against decrepid Aunt Maud and Cousin Bernard on Boxing Day with this action packed assortment. Check 'em out dudes

- 1) ONIONY KANGA
Chase around Australia at speeds of over 100mph in search of the unique ambrosia kangaroo. To win the game simply place a sliced onion on its nose, remember of course to dodge the barrage of semolina bullets fired by the rancid beast.
- 2) BULL ON A STRING
A game of patience. Carefully lower your bovine chum down from the tall skyscraper, over the ocean into the field. Extra points are scored depending on the length of the string. Having secured his safety, degrade him by setting fire to his tail!
- 3) BRUMMIE FOOTBALL MANAGER
With the help of Phil from Blammo! guide Birmingham City to relegation with a series of ill-advised transfer moves. Last player to the GM Vauxhall Conference is a cissy!
- 4) THE HOBBIT
Excellent new adaptation of J.R.R. Tolkiens popular fantasy. Kill Gandalf and the rest of the cast in the first 30 seconds and spend the remainder of the game shitting on the dead elves!
- 5) XMAS BINARY MASTERMIND
Superb new educational package specifically aimed at youngster aged 11-15. Annoy your children by banning 'Indiana Jones' on Christmas Day. Any sign of teenage rebellion, whip them 'til they bleed.

The panto season is almost upon us, and I feel I should pass some sort of comment on the range of entertainments on offer this year...

1) MOTHER GOOSE (CHORLEY)

High jinks with Bernie Clifton and a full supporting cast including the Frank Stones Trio and the children from The Bendy Monsters School of the Damned.

Rating:

Lively, entertaining, but embarrassing.

2) SNOW WHITE (HOLMFIRTH)

Ambitious attempt to cast Bill Owen and Kathy Staff in the leading roles turns sour shortly after the interval with the appearance of 46 year old panto veteran Wee Georgie Wood. His inability to deliver the simplest of lines is matched only by his constant saliverring into the orchestra pit.

Rating:

Bring an umbrella!

3) HUMPTY DUMPTY (BARROW IN FURNESS)

Billed as 'The worlds shortest pantomime', this popular panto is effectively a one man show.

Rating:

Although the make-up artists are to be applauded for their efforts, the hot spotlights do little for Humpty's papier mache exterior, thus explaining the relatively short scenes. Humpty appears to be haemorrhaging throughout!

4) THE HARE AND HOUNDS (NURSERY STREET, SHEFFIELD)

Bobby Knutt drowns his sorrows over ten pints of Stones after not being asked by anyone to take the boards this year.

Rating:

Well worth checking out. Go down with your mates and make his life a misery by repeatedly shouting 'Eh-up Knutt!' in a high pitched sarcastic drawl.

5) BABES IN THE WOOD (CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY)

1992s only cartoon panto delivered by the Cambridge Independent Cartoon Society most of whom have been treated for various drug disorders in the last year.

Rating:

Usual egghead mumblings, most unsuitable.

LIVING NEXT DOOR TO THE KRANKIES

Asking your mother, who's the new neighbours?
I heard what you said and now nothing can save us
Taking time out for a casual meeting
Dreading the day of impersonal greeting
Who's having sex at four in the morning
Thrashing away like the four minute warning
Who's in the bedroom ever so cosy?
Screaming orgasmic f-fandabidozy

Oh no, the Krankies live next door

They're off on holiday, ever so trusting
They gave me a key, but their snaps are disgusting
Pictures of Jenny with tears in her eyes
Lifting her schoolcap over his flies
When they return at the end of the season
They're doing the house up for no other reason
Done all the housework, finished the chores
She's swinging away on the patio doors

At the end of the day well nobody could see
Why they got a series on childrens TV
She's in the change but he don't wanna know
The straining relationship's starting to show
He's at the pub and he's turning to violence
Jennys been beaten to virtual silence
God save the Krankies, this is their life
He's beaten the kids, now he's beating the wife

Fandabidozy!

GREAT SPORTING ACHIEVEMENTS

Throughout its sporting history, Britain has always carried the torch of the underdog. Stories of how a spectacular no-hoper turned what appeared to be a mere formality into a famous victory, become the talk-of-the-town and the darlings of the popular press. Here are a smattering of Davids to put the wind up your Goliath!

- 1) Bert Trautman
Played the entire second half of the 1936 FA Cup Final with a broken neck after a collision with a famous white horse named Pickles.
- 2) Bob Champion
Followed in the footsteps of Red Rum and Golden Miller by beating cancer to win the 1981 Grand National, thus becoming the first non-horse to win the event!
- 3) Ben Johnson
Despite disqualification from the olympic 100 metres in 1988, Ben made a successful comeback in the Batchelors Mushy Peas International at Gateshead.
- 4) Lee Dixon
Overcame his all round inability to play football by playing regularly for Arsenal and England. Obviously shagging the manager.
- 5) Duncan Goodhew
Overcame a hideous fall from a tree to become Olympic champion and cheap daytime TV celeb.

'Good evening viewers!' chortled top alternative comedian Benny Hill on his smash hit show in the early 1970s. Bennys' famous words were to prematurely rebound on him almost twenty years later!

The jokers head was mysteriously separated during a bizarre embalming ceremony in Croydon three weeks ago and is currently attached to the end of an industrial safety harness. The jovial comics skull is paraded to London sightseers on Mortlake Bridge on every alternative Tuesday & Thursday and can be hired out for wedding, parties, etc. All cheques made payable to the Yugoslav Football Association, Terazije No. 35, Belgrade. Here's where other famous corpses are currently 'chilling out'

- 1) On his deathbed, top racehorse trainer Fulke Walwyn allegedly gave specific instructions for his body to be stuffed with Tarragon and sent by sea to Brazil to help the poor.
- 2) Upon his death in 1975, Graham Hills shattered remains were given a wildcard entry into the Paris to Dakar Rally and duly finished a splendid ninth.
- 3) Only months after his cremation, the ashes of rock 'n' roll legend Bill Haley were seen to be sprouting leaves. Now, eleven years later, the 'Bill Haley tree' stands at over 950 feet high and attracts the rare fungus plant 'Elvis'.

ON SALE THIS EVENING

Yes, you sir, it's your chance to celebrate the release of the Bendies second demo ``Now wash your hands please'', featuring four of the Bendies finest singalong odes, ``Pauline Quirke in a Gritwagon'', ``Cloughies Greenhouse'', ``Eastbourne'' and ``Living Next Door to the Krankies''. Only £1.50! Top Hole!